Flat th in this, these.

Ch like k in school.

Ch like sh in machine.

S like z in rose, nose.

Children can be made acquainted with the rules by adopting the following simple method :

The vowels sound like their name, or are long when they end a syllable; also, when a consonant and mute e are on their right.

The vowels are short when a consonant is on their right.

C is like k when a, o, u, l, r, or t is on its right.

C sounds like s when e, i, or y is on its right.

G sounds like j when e, i, or y is on its right.

A is broad when ll, ld, l~, or ll~, etc.

To teach children how to enunciate each sound correctly requires less labor on the part of the teacher than to impress upon their minds their dissimilarity. They should be informed that they should use their ears as much, if not more, than their eyes; and much patience and ingenuity will be necessary in order to impress upon their minds that letters are the signs of sounds.

THE END.

SOUTHERN SCHOOL-BOOKS.

The undersigned has the pleasure of announcing to the people of the Confederate States that he has commenced the publication of School-Books, free from the taint of Abolitionism. He will in a few days have the following books in store:

THE CONFEDERATE PRIMER.

This is an admirably-arranged Primer, well adapted to children in Primary Schools. Price, per dozen, 50 cents net.

THE FIRST CONFEDERATE SPELLER.

Well printed on excellent paper, containing 144 pages, 12mo. Price, per dozen, $1 80 net.

THE SECOND CONFEDERATE SPELLER.

Well printed and substantially bound. 18mo. Price, per dozen, $1 25 net.

This series of Spellers has been adopted by the High School in Nashville, where more than 2000 children are taught, and by several of the best literary institutions in Virginia. They have also been commended by many of the best educators of the South.
